EDMONTON ALBERTA

"Behold a great priest who in his days pleased God."--Book of Wisdom

Yes, Archbishop O'Leary was truly a great priest whose light was not hidden under a bush. In the indefatigable performance of his duty, as he saw it, that light penetrated.

Coming to Edmonton from the Maritimes in 1920, His Grace took up the arduous task of shepherding his large diocese. His vision was far-reaching and his apostolic zeal drove him onward toward its attainment. A truly Ecumenical Spirit animated him and he manifested it on all occasions serving those who needed him regardless of creed, because they needed him. True priest that he was, he fully realized that his great work was to bring Christ to his people and his people to Christ. This he strove to do with all the powers of both soul and body until his death in 1938.

Many good works testify to the greatness of his life: one that we shall mention here was his work in the field of Catholic Education. It was the wish of his heart to promote where possible the establishment of Separate Schools.

In 1960 the Edmonton Separate School Board built a beautiful Catholic High School at 87th and 132nd Avenue. They named it after Archbishop O'Leary as a tribute to his memory.

As the students pass his picture daily on the way to class we are reminded that his spirit--The Ecumenical Spirit must live on in us, for his is the true spirit of this school. He has lighted the torch--now the challenge is ours to do reverence to his honour and show forth Christ to the world of our day.

DEDICATION

Pope John XXIII

The whole world, catholic and non-catholic alike, mourned the death of our late, beloved Pope John XXIII in June 1963.

The words of our Lord, "I think thoughts of peace and not of affliction...." were particularly applicable to this humble apostle of Christ. But Pope John not only taught the doctrine of Christ, he lived it. The goodness, the charity, the love and understanding of Christ again brought "life" to troubled and confused souls.

Pope John's efforts to promote world peace during his short pontifcate, were crowned by his encyclical "Pacem in Terris". This great document, addressed to all the people of the world, was acclaimed in the United Nation Assembly and applauded even by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Pope John XXIII is dead, but he will always be remembered as a great and holy man. It is with mingled feeling of love, respect and gratitude that we dedicate this book to him.

HIS GRACE

ARCHBISHOP MACDONALD

Dear Envoy:

Thank you for your kind letter of yesterday, requesting a short message for your yearbook. It is a pleasure to comply, though with the usual doubts concerning its interest to students; but the reputation of the O'Leary High for serious study and good citizenship is so well established that enyone interested in the spread of Christian education would feel compelled to co-operate to the fullest possible degree.

However, even the best schools are liable to have a few vandals, enough to show the need for complusory education. Recent newspaper reports concerning vandalism in some of our schools must have brought a sense of shame and sorrow to many parents as well as to the teachers and classmates of those concerned.

To belong to a certain school, especially a High School where everyone has been already at school for a few years, and to know from experience that everything may be broken into or stolen anytime, is enough to convince us that we cannot yet claim for every family that honesty, purity and respect for the rights of others, which are always the fruits of a good christian education.

The above may seem to indicate that the O'Leary High has been a disappointment. The answer is - by no means. We are very pleased with the school, and I am glad to have this opportunity of conveying my congratulations to all the graduands, along with my sincere thanks to their teachers and parents. The only reason for the above is that in any school or institution with so high an average of intelligence and good behaviour as yours, it does seem more disappointing to find a few who refuse to follow the general spirit of the school.

My best wishes to all the graduates for pleasant and prosperous futures. Some will be teachers, others will be nurses, others again will enter some field of professional life. All these are good, though in the light of the need and the service rendered, the two first enjoy a preference. More money may be made in some of the others, but when has money contributed as much to human happiness as service to God and our neighbor has always done.

Knowing the pressing need for more priests and religious, especially in missionary countries, at least a few of the many souls called by God to His service will respond and enter the seminary or the novitiate to equip themselves in a fitting manner for the worthy and efficient discharge of the duties that will be incumbent upon them in those walks of life.

But whatever walk you decide to follow, aim at being the best that your brains and opportunities can make you. Don't ever be satisfied with being middling teachers or nurses, lawyers, doctors or engineers. There is already too much mediocrity in the world, and I am sure the graduates of O'Leary High would never willingly stoop to adding to that mediocrity in any manner whatsoever. There is no necessity of my telling you of the Church's need of more priests and Sisters; nor of the State's need of more dedicated teachers and nurses. You are too intelligent to be unaware of these things, but your superiors in Church and State do often fear that you are not interested in them as you should be, seeing that these obligations incumbent upon you by the ten commandments.

With warmest congratulations again, and best wishes for futures filled with service to those in spiritual or material needs, I remain,

Sincerely in the Lord,

Archbishop of Edmonton

SALARIA

Dear Graduates:

Graduation day is one of significance to the graduating class, because it represents the successful culmination of rigorous application to the course of studies that its members have been required to pursue.

On this very important day I offer to you my warmest congratulations and best wishes for future success. No one has the vision to see precisely what the future will be. But of this you can be assured, that your years in the high school have added immensely to the sum total of your knowledge, your character, your intellectual courage and your moral fibre.

It is my sincere prayer that you go forth to meet the challenge beyond your high school with a buoyant heart, and strong faith and determination to fulfil that position which will be in harmony with the divine will.

May the Divine Lord be most generous to you with His blessings, and Mary His Mother be your guide always.

Neil N. Savaryn,

+ Noi t. Javary.
Eparch of Edmonton

Dear Students:

May I commend the students of O'Leary High School for their efforts during the past year. Most of you have taken advantage of the excellent educational opportunities provided for you by your parents, the teaching staff, and the Catholic people of this City.

Although your future is unknown, you must remember that it is in your hands. Whether your life is a success or failure will depend on your efforts. Each of us has been placed in this world for a purpose and Our Creator has given us the abilities necessary to achieve that purpose. How well we use these abilities depends on us.

The greatest wish that I or anyone else can have for you on your graduation is, that you will live your life in such a manner that it will help you to achieve your eternal destiny. A poet once expressed these thoughts this way:

"Isn't it strange that princes and kings,
And clowns that gather in sawdust rings,
And common folks like you and me,
Are makers for Eternity?
To each is given a bag of tools,
A shapeless mass and a book of rules,
And each must make, ere life is flown,
A stumbling block or a stepping stone".

Yours sincerely,

a. Wa Wil

PRESIDENTS

OF STUDENTS' UNION SPEAK

Fellow Students:

This year has been marked by firsts in the ventures undertaken by the Students' Union. The first week saw the frosh subjected to the whims of the seniors and was concluded with a successful Frosh Dance--the "Frosh Frolic."

The months following also sported many successful events such as the ("city slickers") Harvest Hop, Photo Fun Day, Improvement Awards' Presentation, an unforgettable Prom and several general assemblies.

Such activities as the Profs' Volleyball Game, Sadie Hawkin's Dance and the Basketball Soc Hop are examples of Students' Union ventures.

Leona Huerlat Fred Brings

We sincerely hope that our efforts have met with your approval.

We remain,

Leona Huculak Girls' President

Fred Burghardt Boys' President reEDITOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Fellow Students:

The almost startling potential of high school and college students is finally beginning to be realized today. You, as students, and as persons, are able to do a great deal for the betterment of your own community and your entire society. Your people are usually recognized nowadays as earnest, unselfish workers, who will, and often do, take part in very worthwhile enterprises—work without the encouragement of a reward. However, this energy can be wasted or even directed towards the wrong ends. It is this misdirection of energies that is the cause of so much sorrow and resentment today.

It is your responsibility to make sure that you do not waste your own energy and talents; your responsibility to see that you do good rather than evil. The U.C.F., the St. Vincent de Paul Society, Holy Childhood, and U.N.I.C.E.F. are all worthwhile organizations which are constantly searching for someone willing to give some of his or her talents. The students of O'Leary are exactly the ones for whom these societies are searching, and it would most certainly be to the honor of the school if O'Leary students gained the reputation of being unselfish volunteers.

There is much to be done and it is up to you to do it for the betterment of your community, for the peace of the world, and for the glory of God.

We, the Editors, would like to thank not only the advisors, and the rest of the Envoy staff for so unselfishly giving of their time and energies, but also the other people who have substantially contributed to your yearbook. We hope that this year's Envoy has attained the standard set by former ones and that it will go on in the established tradition of presenting a full year at O'Leary.

Yours hopefully,

Jean McBean

PRINCIPALS' MESSAGES

"Conformity" is to-day's word!

There is a laudable type of conformity based on the recognition and judicious application of sound Christian principles.

There is also an insidious type of conformity which threatens to undermine

May you, as a result of your training at O'Leary, be capable of distinguishing between the two! In practice, may you believe enough to care and care enough to be different!

In conformity with the past years' tradition, I wish each of you the happiness which stems from living out your life in a world which needs what an O'Leary graduate has to offer.

Sister M. marquente

Principal, O'Leary Girls'

The editor, moderators, and the writers of this edition of the O'Leary High School Yearbook deserve the sincerest thanks of the whole school. The production has entailed hours and hours of work which began in late September when the basic decisions were made.

Many other decisions were made that same month--every boy and girl in this school chose to return. The motivation was noble, strong, possibly weak, but a decision was made. But the decision is insufficient unless there is a determination to use all the facilities of the school for the purpose for which they were built or organized: to learn, to develop self-control, to expand one's interests. Sometimes schools are criticized by boys and girls for lack of what they call "School Spirit". True school spirit is a spirit of study, a questioning spirit that cannot be satisfied by anything less than perfection.

A decision to do one's best is all anyone can justly ask. To choose the more important, to ignore the lesser and to stick by the choice is the manly way. The glow of satisfaction from the knowledge that one has done his best is worth much more than the effort and it is the sure path to a worthwhile life.

This country was won by men and women who refused to stop trying once they had decided that this was the land for them. Surely their inheritors are not a lesser breed. This Yearbook would convince the reader that O'Leary boys and girls have the stuff which commands respect.

Saint John Baptist de La Salle

PRAYER

O glorious John Baptist de La Salle, Apostle of youth, obtain for your Institute an abundant harvest of vocations. May these chosen souls walk in Thy footsteps, and, by their zeal, their sound doctrine, and the sanctity of their lives, save the youth of the world. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

O'LEARY'S CHAPLAIN

Father Prefontaine

Our school chaplain, Father Prefontaine, was born in Legal where he also attended school. He studied for the priesthood at Saint Joseph's Seminary and was after assigned to Immaculate Conception parish where he stayed for four and one half years. After a year and one half at Camrose, Father was reassigned to Saint Edmond's last June. On behalf of the O'Leary students we would like to thank Father for giving of his valuable time to counselling students and to teaching the girls of II-B Religion.

GRADUATING CLASS '63

SALUTATORIAN

MARY BOBROWSKY

Membership in the Graduating Class of 1963 (the first to receive its complete Senior High School training at O'Leary) is a privilege I fully appreciate. But I cherish even more the honour of being chosen to extend greetings to you who have come to participate in this happy occasion.

I use the word 'participate' designedly, for without your co-operation, your encouragement and your patience this day might have never been.

This evening's flowers will fade; life's music will change its theme and its tempo; the graduates will go their various ways, but there will always remain the memory of a happy graduation day, made still happier by the presence of you whom it is our good fortune to call 'friends', and to whom it is a pleasure to say, "Welcome!"

VALEDICTORIAN

I am given the honour to say farewell to you on behalf of the 1963 graduating class. We young men and women are the first to complete the three years of senior high school at O'Leary. We now stand upon the threshold of adulthood, confidently facing the nebulous future with hopeful hears and alert minds. We have reached the apex of twelve years of education and are very grateful for the institutions and people that have brought us this far.

Only by the Grace of God have we successfully completed these years, and many of us are now ready to proceed to institutions of higher learning; others among us will step out into the business world, challenging it with youthful vigor confident that our education has been of the highest caliber. Tonight is a night for reminiscing, for looking back over these last three years. We all remember our Glee Club activities, the Revue, Intramural Sports, Interscholastic Sports, the Prom, Exams, and even Dententions! Some of us worked on the Orbit Staff, others with the Yearbook staff. These and the many other experiences are dear to us, and it is with regret that we are leaving them.

Before we leave our Alma Mater, we must reveal our gratitude to our teachers, our parents, and our pastors.

First among these are our parents. They gave birth to us, nourished our bodies and our minds, clothed us, and instilled in us our basic love for Jesus and Mary. This year, many of us will be leaving our homes, and we fervently thank you, our mothers and fathers, from the depths of our hearts.

We are also grateful for the wonderful education that our teachers, those present and those past, have given us. It is they who have instilled in us these last dozen years the knowledge and perceptiveness we now feel we have acquired. We are especially lucky, we Catholic students, for special religious orders have been founded for the specific purpose of our education. In O'Leary we have the Christian Brothers and the Sisters of Saint Joseph, along with a corps of devoted lay teachers, teaching us. We are very grateful to these people who have dedicated their entire lives solely for the education of Catholic Youth.

The priests we have known these past few years also receive our gratitude. Through them we have received special graces without which we would not have been able to continue. They have administered the Sacraments to us, guided us, counselled us, and increased our love for God. They have helped us much in the past, and God willing, they will continue to do so many years into the future.

There is yet another parent I have neglected to mention and that is our country, Canada. This wild and widespread land is our home: we suffer with it and rejoice with it. It is a stronghold of democracy, where one's basic freedoms of religion, speech and ownership are not violated. Twice in this century Canadian soldiers, our fathers and grandfathers, have fought on foreign soil to preserve Canada's liberty and integrity, and if necessary we shall be honoured to do the same.

The time has now come for us to take our leave of O'Leary, but farewell does not express the true sentiment of our hearts, for O'Leary, YOU will never fade from our memory.

Leadership Is A Bay Tradition

Since 1670 the Hudson's Bay Company has been a driving force in the development of Canada. And although the romance of almost three centuries of fur trading and exploration still clings to this company, to millions of Canadians the Bay is the modern department store in their community — a leader in fashion.

. On Education . . .

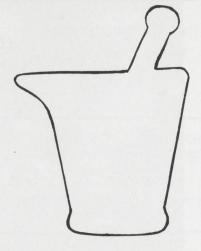

"Let no youth have any anxiety about the upshot of his education, whatever the line of it may be. If he keeps faithfully busy each hour of the working day, he may safely leave the final result to itself. He can, with perfect certainty, count on waking up some fine morning to find himself one of the competent ones of his generation, in whatever pursuit he may have singled out. Silently, between all the details of his business, the POWER of JUDGING in all that class of matter will have built itself up within him as a possession that will never pass away. Young people should know this truth in advance. The ignorance of it has probably engendered more discouragement and faintheartedness in youths embarking on arduous careers than all other causes put together."
